

SCOTT & MARIA

The Brighton based duo have been playing music together since around 2012. The new EP 'Never Lost', will feature five new tracks. It includes 'This Land' – a track inspired by the beauty of the British Isles and both filmed and recorded live on the South Downs. Whilst this EP took great inspiration from the indomitable spirit of Mother Nature, Love remains a cornerstone and the never decreasing flame underpinning the band's sound.

Their 2017 debut album 'Bright Star' was greeted with plaudits from fans and media. The album inspiration came from Scott & Maria's move from London to Brighton in late 2015.

A smorgasbord of music influences from David Bowie to The Beatles, from Nina Simone to Newton Faulkner and Nahko Bear & The Medicine People. It is an eclectic, fun mix of acoustic songs leaning towards alternative folk. Love, and the depth of feeling, is a recurring theme throughout the album.

A flurry of writing and recording promises to see the band follow this EP with another new album and the bands burgeoning live reputation gained over the past few years in the south of England and seen promoters take notice. The duo have taken to the stage at the likes of The Isle of Wight Rhythm Tree Festival, Sark Summer Festival, NeverWorld Festival (Kent), RawFest (Berkshire), Scallywags Party (Bath), SmallWorld Festival (Kent), Lambstock Festival (London), Brighton Vegan Festival, and the Permaculture Stage & Banjo Stage in the Green Fields of Glastonbury Festival.
